LIBERTY, Miss.

Amite County supervisors may spend $2.2 million on renovation of the parish Courthouse to provide more operating room.

The Enterprise-Journal reports (<http://bit.ly/Ph5mC1>) the building is Mississippi's oldest operating courthouse.

Architect Johnny Waycaster, of Waycaster & Associates of Natchez, recently presented the board with the plan.

The board also heard from attorney Lucien Bourgeois of Butler & Snow about options the board can consider in financing the renovation project.
