Andrew.Tingan@butlersnow.com

Andrew is a member of Butler Snow's Commercial Litigation group. Prior to joining Butler Snow, Andrew's practice focused on advising clients in all phases of the construction process. Andrew also served as legal counsel to an infrastructure developer responsible for the $1.8 billion renovation of Denver International Airport's Jeppesen Terminal. Prior to practicing law, Andrew served five years as an Army logistics officer. He was deployed in support of Operation Enduring Freedom and is a Bronze Star recipient. Andrew now uses his ability to understand the unique needs of clients to assist them in all stages of litigation.
